

Environmental Policy

To each employee, contractor and visitor of Fingleton White:

Fingleton White (FW) is an engineering and project management consultancy.

FW is committed to establishing, implementing and maintaining an effective environmental system that complies with the requirements of ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management and industry codes of practice.

The Owners and Directors of FW, acknowledge their responsibilities under statutory regulations and other industry codes of practice. FW is committed to the prevention of pollution and complies with applicable environmental legislation.

We are committed to promoting environmental awareness amongst our employees, contractors, visitors and suppliers. In accordance with this policy, we will strive to operate our business and to design and build facilities in a sustainable fashion.

We will communicate and consult with staff and third parties as required to honour this commitment. As part of our regular review process, the company will endeavour to promote:

- Waste segregation at source
- Recycling of certain wastes
- The use of 'green' energy
- The reduction of our environmental impact

FW aims to continually improve the environmental system and achieve the annual targets and objectives set out by the environmental system.

FW will review this Environmental Policy and System in the light of experience and developments within their areas of business at a minimum at the annual Management Review Meeting.
